Re: PPEs for Health Care Professionals during COVID-19 crisis

Dear HR personnel

My patient, the bearer of this letter, has reported being required to work in a high-risk COVID-19 environment with an inadequate supply of PPEs.

I am concerned to hear this, on two counts. 1) individuals in nursing homes have a greatly increased risk of COVID-19 infection, hence the risk of transmission to health care professionals is high warranting the use of PPEs and 2) my patient has diabetes and is at increased risk of COVID-19 related-complications should my patient become symptomatic and.

I would be grateful for your consideration of my patient and welcome your call to discuss further
